First Responders have the difficult task of keeping our communities safe while maintaining their own safety. Responding to a mental health crisis requires effective communication, as well as knowledge of verbal de-escalation techniques and insight about community resources. Mental Health America is presenting Mental Health First Aid as an introduction to mental health awareness and responding to a mental health crisis. Mental Health First Aid is a course that teaches you how to help someone who is developing a mental health problem or experiencing a mental health crisis. The training helps you identify, understand, and respond to signs of addictions and mental illnesses.

CIT | Additional Training Opportunities

Criminal Justice Coordinating Center of Excellence (CJ CCoE) has heard about the need for online training for law enforcement, especially additional training on suicide prevention and intervention. Thanks to the Ohio CIT Support and Expansion Project and Ohio Department of Mental Health and Addiction Services, officers are now able to attend Question, Persuade, Refer (QPR) training for Law enforcement. This training is FREE, fully online, and self-paced; the training takes about 3 hours to complete and individuals can stop and start the training as the training platform bookmarks progress.

This training can be used as a refresher or advanced training for CIT officers or as basic training for non CIT officers, consistent with the One Mind Campaign which encourages adequate mental health training for all law enforcement officers.
